Taft's Message Arouses Protests

San Juan, P. R., May 13.—President Taft's message to Congress on Porto Rico had the effect of a bombshell here. It was a sweeping condemnation of the present government, and a strong protest against the charges of unfitness and ingratitude contained in the message. It is pointed out that the storm raised in Washington was caused solely by the Unionist party, which controls the House of Assembly. The other political elements have not participated in the dispute, and they oppose the action of the Unionists.

Cuban Lottery To Draw Revenue

Havana, May 13.—The House of Representatives, by a vote of 52 to 20 has passed the bill authorizing the establishment of a national lottery. The general terms of the project, from which the Government expects to draw an annual revenue of from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, call for three prizes monthly. The number of tickets and the amount of prizes are to be left to the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury.

DEATH WILL SOON RELEASE GEN. STOESEL

(Special from United Press.) St. Petersburg, May 13.—Death will soon probably give the release from prison to General Stoessel which the Czar recently denied. Word from Portret Peter and Paul where Stoessel is confined, says a coachman purveyed as occasion requires by Peck & Lines of Bridgeport complete the equipment. The time for the solving of oaths has come and gone without his having done anything towards getting in this crop and he shows a like indifference regarding preparations for corn and potatoes. It is said that he has had a small patch plowed for a garden but even this report lacks confirmation. Some of the Redding Grange talked of appointing a committee who should proffer their advice and assistance towards getting his tillage operations under way but this idea was not carried out by reason of a fear that such action might be regarded as over officious.

Early in June Agent Warner will begin his campaign against dog owners who have been delinquent in the matter of registration, being guided by a list furnished him by the selectmen. The number of unlicensed dogs in town is at least 50 and Mr. Warner says that he is going after delinquents he will mean business.

Milo Osborn has a new pair of work horses which he purchased in Bedford, N. Y.

The Methodist parsonage at the Center has been rented, partly furnished, by Mrs. H. G. Bodie, of West Nutley, N. Y.

Albert Bigelow Palne, the author, arrived home a few days ago from his European trip.

The Lonsdown school is closed for a few days, the teacher, Miss Webb, having gone to her home near Norwich on account of the illness of her mother.

Dan Beard, the author and artist, has come to his place at the Center for the summer.

A trout caught in the Devil's Mouth pool last Saturday by Frank Pavarau weighed one and three quarters pounds.

The estate of the late George Keeler, consisting of thirteen acres, has been inventoried at $180. Under the supposition that the deceased also had a bank account the relative went to an expense of about $250 for the funeral.

Harvard Student MISSING FROM HOME

New York, May 13.—Thomas P. Williams, 18 years old, a Harvard student, whose mind is said to have been affected by overstudy, is missing from the home of his uncle, David Williams, in Bethel, Conn. He was last seen yesterday at the Reading Railroad station near that place, and his relatives believed he headed for this city.

According to the police, Williams broke down through overstudy some weeks ago and ran away from the university. He was found and brought to this city. He wore a somewhat worn suit of gray.

THE THEATRES

POLI'S

Throngs of patrons are visiting Poli's this week to witness probably the best all-around vaudeville show presented in this city during the year. Incidentally the patrons will bid farewell to the vaudeville season at Poli's theatre being turned over to summer stock commencing with next Monday. The headline attraction is one of Pat Rooney's successes, entitled "Hotel Laughland" a combination of irresistible comedy, pretty girls, brilliant stunts and costuming and gold tumbling and whirlwind dancing. Although recognizable as a distinctive Rooney act, "Laughland" is new and original. The music is being whistled and sung all over town.

A sort of co-headliner is the magnificent playlet of the Sierra Nevada, entitled "The Show Girl," presented by the Jane Courthope company. For artistic and striking stage settings this sketch easily rivals anything seen here in years. The curtain revolves on a setting representing a spur of the famous Sierra Nevada, with snow capped peaks in the distance and a gold mine in the foreground. The story has to do with a lost boy who turns up at the cabin during a snow storm, and how the mother and made happy once again. The juvenile part is taken by Master Forester, a little lad of eleven but a clever actor.

Other items of interest this week are: The Watermelon Trust the snap-dance, the daintiest dancer, who also sings and makes several rapid costume changes; Corcoran & Dixon a burlesque of the famous "The Girl from Stratford"; and the new motion picture, "The Show Girl," by the Jane Courthope company.

Next Monday afternoon at Poli's the famous Melodie Elliott success, "Her Own Way" will be presented as the opening stock production. Miss Alice Fleming and a talented cast will appear.

SMITH'S.

Last evening the theatre was sold out some time before the opening of the doors for the sixth performance of "The Show Girl," Robert M. Sperry's twelfth annual production, which promises to break all records, not only for Mr. Sperry's offerings, but for the theatre on a week's stand. The same condition will undoubtedly prevail this evening, although there are still remaining quite a number of good seats. "The Show Girl" has undoubtedly caught the attention of the public in a marked manner, for the business of the theatre promises to go far above anything which Mr. Sperry has ever experienced. The many musical numbers rendered during the performance have already won for the company the streets, for they are being whistled and hummed quite as much as were the songs heard last season in "The Girl from Stratford." The advance sale of seats for the remainder of the week has been exceptionally heavy, but there are still many excellent seats to be had. The company is well equipped, and as the demand is rapid, and some one is going to be disappointed by waiting too long.

Monday the special spring and summer season of vaudeville and pictures opens, and there are going to be some things which will be commended to the public in such manner that they are sure to attend. Five acts of fresh new material, class vaudeville, the best that anyone could possibly desire, will be offered at every performance, supplemented by three reels of fresh new motion pictures, never before shown anywhere. The vaudeville acts will be all of the very best quality, and best of all, they will be absolute novelties in this city, which fact will tend to make them all the more enjoyable. There will be no old or worn out acts, but everything will be bright and fresh, and every one will be pleased. There will be three performances every day, one in the afternoon, starting promptly at 2:15, and two in the evening, the first at 7:15 and the second, after a brief intermission of five minutes, at about 8:30. Those who arrive too late to see the entire bill during the first performance will be privileged to remain in their seats until they have witnessed the rest of the show. The price of admission will be so ridiculously low, ten cents, that no one can say they are not getting their money's worth in the attractions offered. In the evenings, there will be just a few seats reserved at only a small advance, ten cents, and these can be secured a week in advance, or arrangements may be made to secure the same seats for any special evening, each week. Applications for these should be made at the box office, where the names of the subscribers will be placed upon the list, and the seats will be held each week. The pictures will change three times a week, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and will therefore be all the more enjoyable. With such low prices and with such excellent entertainment as will be offered, no one should neglect attending Smith's theatre at least once a week, and many will no doubt avail themselves of the opportunity to "take in" the show several times during the week.

REDDING NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST TO OUR READERS

Wedding, May 12.—Dr. Deming is building a bungalow on the high ground back of his present residence. Builder Eugene Adams has charge of the job.

Miss Helen Barnes and Miss Eleanor Osborn will this week for Europe. They go direct to Berlin, where they have friends, and later will journey to Italy and other points on the continent, prolonging their stay until fall.

Willard Fisher intends to erect a structure of the bungalow type to serve as a residence here in the latter part of the season, and subsequently to be converted into a farm building. This fall or next spring he will build a more substantial house.

Lester O. Peck will not rebuild the large barn on his Sunset Hill place which was burned last fall but is to immediately restore and complete the basement walls and cover them with a concrete roof which will serve as a tennis court.

A car load of fruit trees and shrubs was delivered at the Commodore Lattin place on Sunset Hill last week. A force of about twenty teams and fifty men is busy there in finishing up the driveways and grading.

Before they returned to Bridgeport the Italian laborers who dug the water pipe trench for S. C. Shaw did a similar job to convey a supply of water from D. S. Sanford's tank to the residence of his sister, Miss Belle Sanford.

At the Ridge last Thursday the Bethel town team defeated the Sanford school by a score of 19 to 7. On Saturday the Sanfords played the Kent school at Kent and again lost, 11 to 3.

Redding Grand has fallen into line with the National and the State Grange in endorsing the movement to obtain national appropriations to build good roads. A paper on the subject will be presented by Louis C. Rumsey at an early meeting of the local Grange.

Mrs. Grant Archer of Pleasant Valley is suffering from a painful and serious affection of the eyes which developed a few days ago from no known cause. Dr. Smith advises that she go to a hospital for treatment.
